

St Werburghs Nursery

Documentation by teachers and children of their visit to Arnolfini, February 2002

Between September 2001 and August 2003 I nurtured a series of eight discrete reciprocal visits and InSet sessions linking Arnolfini and St Werburghs Park Nursery. This initiative has been supported by Bristol Education Action Zone. Children and staff produced this documentation from a visit to Arnolfini's Giné Pane exhibition.

Our experiences have enabled me to learn more about working alongside very young children and developing partnerships with schools. For example;

In order to develop new ways of working it is essential to truly understand and respect the needs of children, school staff and their parents and carers.
